

Induction Project – Brief Analysis

Order & Chaos

Read and analyse your induction project brief and additional information on the course blog. Respond to the questions below in the form of clear and detailed paragraphs. Upload your work to your induction blog homepage with a copy of the brief.

1. Identify the key deadlines of the project and the two units that this project covers.
2. According to the brief, what are some of the different places or situations where order and chaos can be observed in everyday life?
3. The brief refers to both visual elements and principles of design. Which principles are specifically mentioned, and how might they relate to the theme of order & chaos?
4. What type of practical work are you expected to produce during the three-week project, and how should these connect to your research?
5. What skills and qualities will lecturers be looking for when assessing your work throughout this project?
6. What evidence must be included in your final portfolio submission, and why is each part important to demonstrating your learning and development?
7. When are you permitted to use AI and when is it not allowed to be used?
8. What responsibilities do you have regarding independent study, remote learning tasks and regular blog updates, and how might these contribute to achieving higher grades?