Induction Project – Order & Chaos

Please answer the questions below on a word document and upload to your Induction Homepage as a PDF

1. Describe the project - what was it about and what did you have to do for each of the three areas? What was the key focus of the project? (visual elements, principles of design, mark making, order, chaos, artist research, practical exploration?)
2. Do you feel your practical work was successful – why or why not? How did it answer the brief?
3. What artists did you explore and how did your research into them inspire you in your practical work? Which artist was your favourite to look at and why?
4. In 2D you were asked to create a pair presentation - what went well and what could have gone better? How did you allocate tasks and ensure you met the deadline? What was your role in the piece and how did you make decisions as a group?
5. What personal skills have you developed (consider communication/organisation/self-motivation/techniques/processes). Have you learnt anything about yourself as a result? What personal challenges or problems did you experience in the project? How did you use problem solving skills to resolve these?
6. How do personal reflections help you to develop your own ideas and solve problems? How successful do you think your personal reflections are? Were they useful? How did they help you to problem solve and develop your ideas? Are you describing or critically reflecting? Are you regularly writing reflections?
7. Have a look through your Induction blog pages. How effective are your presentation techniques? What three words would you use to describe your blog? Is it fun, engaging or creative? Does it showcase your ideas? Have you used a range of presentation techniques? Is there anything you could change in your next project?
